cBEYONData, a portfolio company of Bluestone Investment Partners, has acquired Alta Via Consulting, a provider of ERP consulting services.

Alta Via is an advisory firm providing expertise in guiding, executing, and sustaining business transformation. The firm's experts aim to improve clients' operations by maximizing value from existing business processes and information services or by redesigning operations and leveraging improved technology.

cBEYONData is a purpose-built professional services firm that supports mission-driven agencies and organizations to enhance business processes. Bluestone is a private equity firm investing exclusively in lower middle-market companies in the defense and government services arena.

Dyson Richards, CEO of cBEYONData, said, "We see huge opportunity for the firm to help our collective customers transform how they do business. The synergies in our talent, culture, and technology expertise will enable us to expand our offerings and deliver immediate value to current and future customers."

The McLean Group provided investment banking support for Alta Via. Holland & Knight and Nelson Mullins provided legal support to cBEYONData and Alta Via.
